

Lee "Gabrielle" Lowell

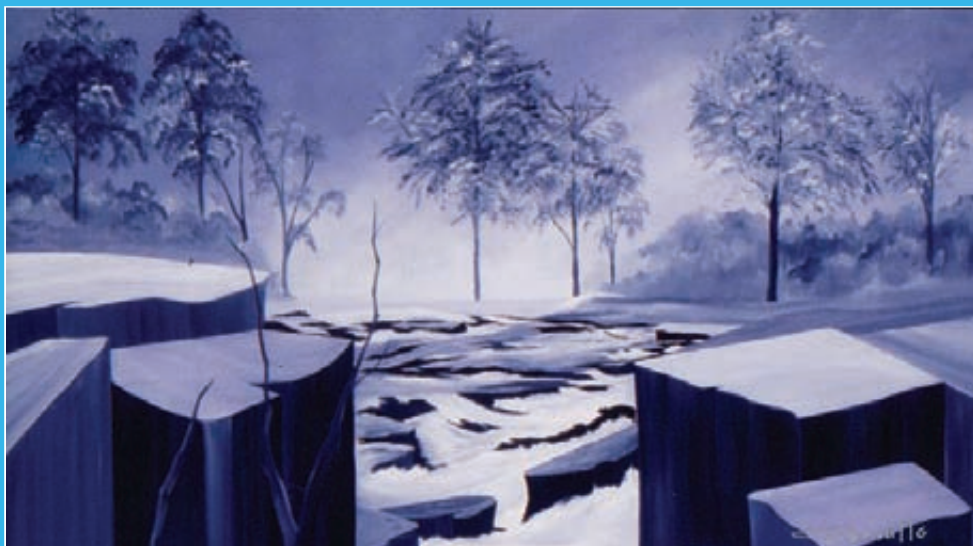

Luna Del Lupo, Oil on Canvas, 30" x 40"

directly sensual, acutely emotive, and commandingly visionary. Her fantasy is saturated with fanciful vistas, where spellbinding and provocative imagery provides an allegory for the subconscious landscape. Aiming to disclose her most lucid and intimate ideologies, Gabrielle brilliantly unlocks a beautiful and compelling reality, inviting the viewer to enter the timeless domain, as she celebrates and explores the incandescent incarnations of the soul in her mythical universe of the mind.

The multiple award winning artist earned an F.A. majoring in Art Education and Art History at the University of Rhode Island and an M.A. at St. John's University in New York. A member of the Women in the Visual Arts, Gabrielle has exhibited in numerous galleries in South Florida. She has taught high school art in Florida, New York and Rhode Island. Recently published in Best of Florida Artists and Artisans and in New Art International, Gabrielle has had earlier publications in The Palm Beach Post and her painting "Cliffhanger" was the cover page of Florida Golf Central. ■ Gabrielle's works reflect a capturing of the ideal, as she states "idealizations are the ultimate purpose of art." Gabrielle's fascination with magical and mysterious places and her original ability to imprint her soul on such a fantastical oasis is quite striking. Her artwork's alluring narratives and graphic semblances speak to the modern audience, allowing us to divulge ourselves in her surreal fantasies. She transforms ordinary objects and characters into extraordinary contexts.
